Austin, Texas

My first destination is Austin, Texas. It is 961.6 miles away and will take me 16 hours and 39 minutes to get there. (That's with the detour.) While I am in Texas, I would like to see the Texas State Capitol, swim in Lady Bird Lake, play in Mayfield Park, and see lots of Texas's beautiful landscapes.

Green River, Wyoming

For my second destination I chose Green River, Wyoming. I chose this because I love rivers. I also want to see the Seedskaadee National Wildlife refuge. The Wildlife National Refuge has eagles, otters, deer, moose, tons of different types of birds, and lots more animals. It's 461.3 miles away and will take me 7 hours and 31 minutes to get there.

Cleveland, Ohio

For my third destination, I chose Cleveland Ohio. I chose that because I wanted to see the city with the same name as our own, I wanted to see Amish Country, and I want to see Lake Erie. It's 1,433 miles away and will take me 22 hours and 49 minutes to get there.

New York

For my final destination, I'm going to New York. I chose to go to New York because I wanted to see the Statue of Liberty, Central Park, & Broadway. It's 461.3 miles away and will take me 7 hours and 31 minutes to get there.

The End

After I finished my road trip I went home. The end.
